748. SHRI RAMDAS AGARWAL: Will the Minister of URBAN AFFAIRS AND EMPLOYMENT be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that India's total estimated requirement for urban infrastructure development for the next ten years is Rs. 2.6 lakh crore which comes to Rs. 25,000 crore annually;

(b) if so, what amount has been identified by Government during the Ninth Plan period for urban development, water supply and sanitation indicating the funds which fall short of the actual requirement of the country; and

(c) in what manner Government propose to fill up the gap between the demand and supply of not only civic services but financial requirements during the Ninth Plan period?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF URBAN AFFAIRS AND EMPLOYMENT (SHRI BANDARU DATTATRAYA): (a) As per the India Infrastructure Report-1996 an investment to the tune of Rs. 2.6 lakh crores over 1996—2005 for urban infrastructure development will be required.

(b) Besides States/UT allocations, the ninth Plan outlay recommended for the Ministry of Urban Affairs & Employment is Rs. 11,400.22 crore which includes provision for urban development, water supply and sanitation also.

(c) The strategies envisaged in the 9th Plan to reduce the gap between the demand and supply of basic amenities include: creation of new assets, upgradation and renewal of existing assets, attaining better operational and managerial efficiency, stimulating flow of resources, decentralisation of production and distribution systems, privatisation, greater community participation, strengthening of delivery and management system, etc.

As it is not possible for either State Governments or the Central Government to contribute this magnitude of funds, institutional sources, externally aided projects, private sources and community sources would have to be explored to meet the gap between demand and supply. However, the Plan funds would be used not only for direct intervention but also as a leverage instrument to activate and sustain the funds flow from outside the Government Sector. A substantial amount is expected to be contributed through private participation and institutional finance outside the plan to bridge the gap between demand and supply of funds, innovative mechanism and practices will have to be encouraged and supported to stimulate the flow of funds such as municipal bond system, municipal financial reforms, fiscal and monetary incentives for creation of environment friendly climate, participation of cooperatives, community groups and NGOs etc.
